Joy Unconfined at School Carnival at High School Friday

The school carnival held at the Daytona Central High school Friday proved an immense success, both as a fun maker and financially. It is thought that the sum derived from the Daytona schools through this carnival will range around $1000.

Starting with a mammoth street parade, in which school kids from the Holly Hills to the near graduates, and the principal, Mr. Eastham, participated, being carried in very fantastic array, the day proved one of nothing but fun for the school children and grown-ups attending the fair until late in the evening.

Fourteen side shows including fortune telling booths, freak booths, soda and ice cream booths, and many others with one big show, constituted the carnival.

A cafeteria dinner was served in the Domestic Science department of the school and those wishing to make it an uninterrupted day of joy, very delicious and tempting food being prepared and served at a small cost.

MILLIONAIRE MAYOR OF COCONUT GROVE TO HEAR BOOZE CASE

(The Associated Press.)
MIAMI, Mar. 19.—Hugh Matheson, millionaire mayor of Coconut Grove said today the action of the United States commissioner yesterday in dismissing the case against Harry S.
Black, New York capitalist in whose car six cases of liquor were found Wednesday would have no bearing when Black appeared before him in the mayor's court Monday. Black was arrested on two warrants, one issued by Matheson and one by federal authorities. The federal case was dismissed when a porter said he put the liquor in the car without the knowledge or consent of Black.

LEE COUNTY TO HAVE GAME REFUGE PARK

(The Associated Press.)
FORT MYERS, Mar. 19.—Lee county is to have a wild fowl and game refuge and park through the offer of a land company which owns a tract of several thousand acres in the Big Cypress district. The concern has tendered the tract to the board of county commissioners for this purpose, stipulating only that it reserves the right to cut the timber. The Big Cypress is a natural haven for game, which is rapidly disappearing in Lee county because of the laxity of the game laws and the attitude of millions of hunters and persons interested in the preservation of the state's wild life. The preservation will do much toward restoring the forests.

HOW'S THE WEATHER TODAY?

Saturday, favored by clear and warm weather, with a high temperature of 82 degrees and low at 63, with light variable winds, proved another delightful day.
Other portions of the country, excepting Boston, were favored by warm weather.

Large Sum Raised by Altar Society for Church Fund

One of the largest card parties of the season was that of Friday afternoon given by the Altar Society of St.
Paul's Catholic church, Mrs. J. B.
Uebelhoefer, chairman, at the Hotel Clarendon, when more than $800 was raised through the generosity of friends and members of the church, augmented largely by a gift made by Mrs. C. G. Burgoyne.

The parlors of the palatial hotel were crowded with players during the afternoon, each contributing to the support of the affair, the funds raised to be applied on the building fund of the church, the edifice having been destroyed by fire several weeks ago.

The Clarendon party Friday was the first of a number of parties which the Altar Society will give, in benefit of this fund, that the church may have a new building by next season at the latest.

FAMOUS "B. L. T." IS DEAD; CONDUCTED A COLUMN ON TRIBUNE

(The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Mar. 19.—Bert London Taylor, well known humorist and conductor of the column in the Chicago Tribune, "A Line of Type or Two," died of pneumonia at his home here early today, after an illness of two weeks.
Taylor was born in Goshen, Mass., in 1865, received his early newspaper training at Plainfield, N. J., and went to Duluth in 1905. He came to Chigo in 1909, and went to work on the Journal, remaining two years where he became famous in the Tribune as "B.
L. T."

In 1903 he left the Tribune to contribute to New York publications, but returned to the Tribune in 1909 and resumed his famous column, which continued until a few days before his death. He leaves a widow and two daughters.

STILLMAN MAY HAVE TO RESIGN POSITION WITH N. Y. CITY BANK

(United Press.)
NEW YORK, Mar. 19.—Attorney James A. Stillman was reported today to have obtained a stay of proceedings in Mrs. Stillman's motion for increased alimony and continued fees, pending the trial of the multi-millionaire's divorce suit.
This action was taken in an effort to prevent Stillman being forced into court to testify regarding his financial condition. The impression appeared to be growing in financial circles today that Stillman soon would be forced to resign the presidency of the National City Bank, which carries with it a salary of $100,000.

SENATE TO ENFORCE CLOTURE TO CLEAR WAY FOR TAX LAWS

(International News Service.)
WASHINGTON, March 19.—CLOTURE will be invoked by the Senate to insure passage of tariff legislation and clear the way for tax revision at the next Congress. The plan, virtually agreed upon by leaders, was laid before Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today, and Mellon began shaping his tax program to submit to the leaders at the capitol.

Mr. R. E. Olds, of Seabreeze and Lansing, Michigan, in his intensely interesting article which appeared in the Sunday Morning NEWS of Feb. 13, stated: "In my acquaintance with the business world, having started out making steam engines and then invented and pioneered the gasoline and automobile, I have been brought in contact with thousands of manufacturers and business men from Maine to California. I find that about nine-tenths of them are Christian men. Now, suppose all of our employers in the States would put up a notice to the employees to the effect that their companies would favor churchgoing or Christianprincipled people, would not this be a wonderful starter for good?"

Perhaps the first really great organization to take extensive action along this line is the American Railway Express Co., which has put into effective operation its "Right Way" campaign. On January 11, February 15 and March 15, "Right Way" meetings were held all over the country wherever there is an A. R. E. office, and they will continue to be held month after month throughout the year.

The expressman these days is wearing a smile and a blue and white button which says: "The Right Way—Choose—Boost." That little badge with its wonderful message borne by thousands of A. R. E. men, contains a motto which every man, woman and child would do well to wear not only in full view but next to the heart.

The "Right Way" is always the "BEST WAY" and there is every evidence that Religion and Christianity is as practical and profitable in business life as it is in the individual. The CHURCHES of this and every community point unflinchingly to the "Right Way" to gain the true wealth of this world and Eternal Life.

You are cordially and earnestly invited to go to Church tomorrow. Announcements of tomorrow's services appear in this issue of the DAILY NEWS.

Useless Calls For "Information"
 Our records show that of the thousands of questions answered by information operators every year, almost half are for numbers already listed in the telephone directory.

The information operators write down daily in looking for and giving out these numbers. These wasted hours affect operating efficiency on regular calls, cause congestion of the lines and increase the already heavy load on the switchboards.

You can help your service by looking first in the directory to be sure it is not listed before calling "information."

The information operators are always ready to give numbers of new subscribers and other changes not listed in the directory.

Sam Small Slams Sunday Shows, Sunday Baseball and Puts in a Good Word for Prohibition

Sam Small attracted a large and enthusiastic audience to the Auditorium Thursday evening.

Although more than thirty-five years have elapsed since he and the inimitable Sam Jones started out to reform the world, he is still the same Sam Small, except that his hair has changed color, his step is not so steady and there are now many wrinkles in his face to mark the furrows of time. He was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. E. K. Cravens of Washington, D. C., who is now his constant traveling companion. One of his sons is also located in Washington as a newspaper man, he being connected with one of the big news services. He made the trip South with President Harding and was with him at St. Augustine. Another son, who is also a trained newspaper man and who for years was with the Hearst newspapers, is now at Los Angeles employed by one of the big moving picture syndicates. He is getting $12,000 per year, so the father says, to boost the moving picture game, while the latter is being paid by another great organization to do what he can toward killing that business on Sunday.

This old veteran campaigner is now in the employ of the National Reform Association, formed about 1864, and which has been maintained all these years under the personal direction and through the generous aid of some of the wealthiest men of the country. The principal offices are at Pittsburgh, but there are also departmental headquarters in Nashville, Chicago, New York, Boston and Washington. It is the purpose of this association of Christian men and women to combat the influences of those things they believe to be bad and to do all in their power to bring about all possible reforms. They are fighting polygamy and all kinds of plural marriages; also anarchy and bolshevism. They are fighting for a uniform divorce law throughout the United States; they are opposing the playing of baseball on Sunday as well as the showing of moving pictures, and more particularly they are just now waging an unrelenting national campaign for the strict enforcement of the prohibition amendment. Mr. Small was cheered to the echo last night as he discussed all of these problems.

He attacked Sunday baseball first and declared that the baseball magnates were so money mad that they had proposed to defy God and desecrate His one day in the week. He said Charley Comiskey was recently offered three million dollars for the White Sox park and refused it, but he could never get enough money to satisfy him. He said he was a baseball fan and always had been, being one of those who helped Henry Grady years ago to establish organized ball in Atlanta. He took the position that Sunday was God's property and that no baseball money chaser had a right to rob Him of his property. Neither was it necessary to find some other amusement to take the place of baseball on the Sabbath any more than it was to find something else to take the place of the infamous saloon on Sunday. He insisted that six days out of each week were enough to see baseball and certainly enough to make

Green Mountain States Hugely Enjoy a Picnic

Vermonters of Volusia county had a most delightful time at their annual rally held Thursday, Mar. 17, at Blue Lake Park, DeLand. The hospitality of these welcoming and entertaining hosts was of the genuine old-time Vermont order, which knows no limits. Stereoscopic views of the green hills of Vermont were shown by Rev. J. L. Sewall who also had a consignment of maple sugar for distribution.

The founder of the association, Wm. Jamieson, was present and gave the history of its origin. The president C. W. Morse of DeLand stated that business men of DeLand had requested that the Vermont association go on record concerning matters needing correction and a resolution was passed sustaining the efforts of the No Fence League, another urging increased production of food products, another asking for a more proportionate and just taxation. A symposium on Vermont on finance, commerce and politics proved highly interesting. An original poem, "Way Up in Old Vermont" was given by Mrs. Ames of South Wallingford. It was stated that considering the size and population of Vermont this is probably the strongest state association among tourists in Florida.

The following officers were selected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. E. J. Hainslow; Secretary, Mrs. T. W. Chamberlin; Treasurer, Mrs. T. W. Chamberlin; DeLand; entertainment committee, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johns.

The results of Daytona are extremely fortunate in having this opportunity to hear this great orator.

As an extra attraction Piped Mulholland, of the Royal Scots, will play the Scotch bagpipes. George H. Tramer, the well-known blind musician of Mobile, is with the party. The lecture and entertainment is free and will take place in the open air at the City Hall corner tonight at 7:30.

Woman Injured in Plane-Auto Crash on Beach Is Better

Mrs. E. L. Smith, of Binghamton, a winter resident of Daytona Beach, who sustained several injuries and cuts about the head Friday afternoon on the beach, when a car in which she was riding was badly damaged in an automobile-airplane collision, was reported resting well and not seriously injured by attending physicians Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Smith, who is the mother of Mrs. W. W. Clute, with Mrs. Clute and her husband were occupants of the Clute Packard touring car Friday that engaged in a collision with the airplane Lenox piloted by Lt. Harry D. Copland.

According to witnesses, the Clute automobile was traveling north on the beach, while the Lenox machine, with Lt. Copland piloting, and two passengers aboard, was flying the same direction attempting to land on the beach.

Different versions have been given to the accident, one being that the automobile and the airplane were speeding at the same rate, the car being in the line of sight of the spot where an aviator can't see an object on account of the wings of the plane. Another witness states that at first the airplane which was flying at a low altitude making ready to land, then when the chauffeur heard the roar of the engine and not seeing the plane right overhead, stepped on the gas and shot the car ahead just as the plane came to the ground.

The Lenox plane came down on the beach, but the car was not stopped until it was on top of the plane and the car was crushed about the front end.

No other members of the car were hurt, although the steering wheel was smashed, and several minor damages incurred. The airplane suffered a broken landing gear, a broken propeller and a smashed left wing tip.

Neither Pilot Copland nor his two passengers were injured although they received a shaking up. The Lenox airplane is owned by Percy H. Spencer, and is flown in the beach passenger service by Pilot Harry D. Copland, formerly a lieutenant in the Royal Air Forces, and a pilot of several years flying record.

The accident according to witnesses, was unavoidable on the part of both the aviator and the chauffeur of the touring car.

HOTEL CLARENDON

Among the popular new arrivals at the Hotel Clarendon are Mr. and Mrs. Casper H. Rowe, Miss Madeline Rowe, Mrs. H. C. Yieser and Miss Elizabeth Yieser of Cincinnati. PRINCESS ISSENA

Samuel Ullman of New York City has been one of the popular season guests at the Princess Isseena. He has a great love for children, especially for such dainty little maidens and valiant little men as those who are this winter living at the Princess. On St. Patrick's Day Mr. Ullman was host at a delightful children's game were played on the beautiful lawns of the Princess and there were contests and rewards sufficient that each little guest was made happy by the winning of a prize. Dainty refreshments were served and of all the many St. Patrick parties in the Triple Cities, none was enjoyed more than this one at the Princess Isseena. Agriculture in the Halifax Country

S. B. CROSBY Executive Secretary Daytona Chamber of Commerce
President Volusia County Farm Bureau

In studying farm conditions in many sections, I am ever impressed with the advantages the Florida grower has over the crop producers in other states. He who would till the soil here has need for no great capital, for Nature has made his lot easier in numerous ways.

Our seasons on the Halifax vary slightly, but an unseasonable frost, a drought or a flood, only puts us back a little and does not mean the loss of a year's crops as on Northern farms.

Our crops are more varied. Few are the staples which cannot be raised here in addition to the fruits restricted to sub-tropical climates, while our mild winters make this Nature's own "hot bed" in production of succulent vegetables so highly priced in the cold North.

Out lands are cheap in comparison with all other farm lands, and particularly cheap when considering the high value of their production; and our climate unsurpassed for health and pleasure.

Drainage is necessary in many instances, but no difficult engineering problems are encountered and no expensive labor features, such as blasting, etc. Irrigation is essential for the production of some crops, but an inexhaustible supply of underground water is easily tapped by artesian wells.

Our loamy soils are easily handled, but there are two features of our crop growing that are likely to impress the newcomer unfavorably—fertilization and control of insects.

Fertilizing is regarded as just that much additional expense, and spraying as an indication of an abundance of crop pests. This view is entirely wrong. Fertilizing is an investment, as shown by the net profits per acre—the natural plant food that abounds is generally not in correct proportion nor as readily available as necessary. Ours is pre-eminently the land of intense production and specialization and of scientific application. We have learned not only the comparative amounts of the necessary plant foods, but in what form they should be to suit each particular crop, what proportion of the different degrees of availability to avoid waste and stunting and what effect the other constituents of the materials used to supply this actual plant food will have on the crops.

We have learned to push some crops forward from the time of seed sprouting and to retard others until fruiting time—to influence size and texture as well as quantity of fruit, and to increase firmness of tissue that long transportation is possible. We produce heavy crops and yet make our soil richer year after year by growing legumes, as all good farmers do, but also by adding the proper proportions of the mineral and other compounds by actual application.

The spraying question is another instance of advanced activity. Any grower of fruits or vegetables who doesn't spray, almost without exception, loses more in cull and inferior products yearly than an entire spray outfit would cost. We spray because we are keenly alive to the advantage of saving the crops and of having these crops of highest quality so that the highest market prices may be obtained. The cost per acre liberally fertilized and well sprayed is not greatly in advance of the necessary minimum, while the additional production and premiums on price give a marked increase on actual profit, and this is all "velvet."

Some 25 different kinds of vegetable and farm crops from the Halifax Country were on exhibition at the recent Mid-Winter Fair at Orlando. The Florida Grower, which "tells the truth about Florida," in its issue of February 26, said: "Versatile Volusia County Captured the Grand Prize—it is considered that this exploitation of the country's resources, tourist advantages and attractions, homemaker appeals and business opportunities was the most complete ever presented in Florida at any time."

We append some concrete examples of our successful growers:

Box 52, Ormond, Fla.
Mr. Crosby, Secy.
of the Chamber of Commerce,
Daytona, Fla.

Dear Sir:
I am enclosing you a report of the amount of fruit and vegetables sold from the garden of Fred Merkle, first baseman, Chicago National Baseball club. As you know, I located through you with Mr. Merkle on December 9, 1920. At that time very little had been planted, but by Xmas we were about finished planting and probably about $100 worth of fruit and vegetables had been sold up to January 1, 1921, at which date I started to keep a daily record of what was sold from the garden. The greater part of the work, such as planting, cultivating, gathering and washing and preparing to send out has been done by Mr. Merkle and myself. In addition Mr. Merkle has got the orders and delivered the same every day excepting Sunday, which was our day off. Your visit to the garden on March 12 enabled you to see that we have not been wasting time by any means, but steadily working every day. The same result can be obtained by anyone at all interested in truck gardening on the soil through this section, but it means work and attention.

What the profits per acre has been so far I cannot say. That is something Mr. Merkle can give you, no doubt.

With Mr. Merkle's permission I have sent you this report of what has been sold from the garden in 14 weeks, and we have yet considerable to sell before the season closes on May 1st.

Probably you can use this to show what we are doing on this land in Ormond. Only too glad to help the good cause along, and show what Volusia county can produce to feed the people when they are here.

Yours very respectfully,

J. W. DENVER,
With Fred Merkle.

P. S.—We are always pleased for anyone interested to visit us and see what we are doing and what can be done with a little work and attention.

Total amount of vegetables sold from the garden of Fred Merkle, Ormond, Volusia county, Florida. The said garden covers about 2.3 acres. From January 1 to March 12, inclusive:

Spinach, 150½ bushels, average weight of 17 pounds to the bushel; turnips, 22½ bushels; turnips, 18½ dozen bunches; carrots, 11½ bushels; carrots, 20 dozen bunches; beets, 27 bushels; beets, 28 dozen bunches; parsley, 133½ dozen bunches; onions, 85 dozen bunches; radishes, 157 dozen bunches; lettuce, 266 dozen, variety Big Boston; lettuce, 22½ dozen, variety Romaine or Cos; mustard, 5 bushels; mustard, 5 dozen bunches; Swiss chard, 7 bushels; beet greens, 29 bushels; beet greens, 2 dozen bunches; cabbage, 1,009 pounds, variety Jersey Wakefield; Chinese cabbage, 540 pounds; peas, 18½ bushels, variety Thomas Laxton; spear mint, 5 dozen bunches; strawberries, 50 quart boxes; persimmons, 15 bushels, variety Ormond.

Daytona, Fla., Mar. 15, 1921.

As to the possibilities of truck farming it is the very best here. We have rich land that requires but little fertilizer. On one-third acre I grew lettuce measuring 18 to 20 inches, heads like cabbage, 95 per cent, made one head, run from 22 to 30 heads per H. P. packed ready to ship to the Northern markets, which at the present time finds ready sale at $4.50 per H. P. On the one-third acre I used 400 pounds of lettuce special, 200 pounds cottonseed meal.

I have some fine green celery, potatoes, beans, cucumbers, squash and peas, which show things can be grown in abundance. I also run a small dairy. By using the fertilizer on the land brings bigger profits, both from the land and the cows.

Now just come and see for yourself and be convinced if you can believe what you see is true.

I remain true to Daytona and the Halifax Country.

I. W. SHILES.

Ormond, Fla.

Mr. Crosby,
Secy. Chamber of Commerce,
Daytona, Fla.

Regarding the growing of sugar cane in this section is a very old industry and can be grown on any of this land—hummock, flat or sand. There are three standard varieties: Japanese, Ribbon and Green. Any of these will produce from 200 to 500 gallons per acre. Japanese will produce more syrup of the three varieties and considered by many to make the best syrup. Cane should be planted not later than March 1, the middle of February being the best time.

Method of planting is by cutting cane from the year's previous crop into pieces about 18 inches long. Pieces being laid in drilled rows, touching each other, rows to be 5 feet apart. The cane should be cultivated about every three weeks for five workings, or until the cane is about 4 feet high. About the middle of November the crop is matured and should be cut and crushed. The quality of the syrup is entirely then up to the party making it.

Mr. Rawlings won the blue ribbon at the Orlando Sub-Tropical Fair in open competition with five other counties. The syrup exhibited by him was made from the three varieties stated and was grown on three-fourths of an acre of hummock land, from which he made 331 gallons of syrup and sold for $2 per gallon.

Hoping this will meet with your requirements.

Yours respectfully,

H. RAWLINGS.

Kingston, Fla., Mar. 15, 1921.

Strawberries in the Halifax Country, I have one and one-half acres, or 2,000 plants, on which I have picked up to date 3,000 boxes of berries and expect to get 3,000 more; 6,000 baskets of berries from one and one-half acres at 50 cents per basket means $3,000, and I have done all the work except the picking. We start putting out plants the first of September, and if the season is good we will have berries by the first of December, which will last until the first of May. I am growing the Missionary Berry, which seems to suit this climate better than other kinds. I have grown berries that 20 will fill a basket. I also have the Logan blackberry, which is a great yielder and sells well. I intend putting out four acres in berries next year, and 50 peach trees. I made some as fine peaches here last year as they do in Georgia, or anywhere. I am also putting more fig and guava trees. Will have nursery stock of these for sale next year.

S. T. LEONARD.

Daytona, Fla., Mar. 16.

I have been asked for a concrete example of the production of citrus fruit. We have two acres in grapefruit that yielded 1,800 boxes of fruit from trees 15 years old.

From 30 acres of oranges we took 8,000 boxes.

These are not unheard of yields, but are very good, and when the cost of production is taken into consideration they are very satisfactory.

On these hummock lands fruit can be grown for considerably less than on the high sandy lands. The amount of fertilizer and labor necessary to grow a crop here is not over half what it is on higher soil.

Very little cultivation is either necessary or advisable, which is a big item at this time when labor is high.
